Based on a true story ... not mine, somebody else's. A bright German woman called Maggie's story - whom i met randomly, non-sexually at a Nimbin campground in 2018.

Street-survey #37

Excuse me sir, my name's Mike, i'm doing a survey on-

Fuck off dickhead

(crestfallen) Oohrrr ...

(re-energized) Ah, excuse me madam how are you today?

Uhm, good. You?

I'm great, thanks! My name is Mike - if I could just get a minute of your time, I'm conducting a quick survey on-Uhmhhh, not really Mike. I've gotta ... What's it about?

It's about LSD

LSD?

If you've never taken it sorry for wasting your valuable time - just a few quick questions - actually only one

I see ... so what was the question?

Some respondents report that from a pre-trip state of ah (leaf through interview notes) a nagging mess of details there came a revelation - changed my life is a common testament

Aha. What's the question?

The question is: Did- Can you remember how exactly you got from ahr (leaf through) conflicting influxes to the ah revelation bit? Was it a process? Did-

Hmm. Ok it happened ... I don't know ... something happened that was already happening - i saw something that was already there - is that an option?

Fuck yeah, brilliant definition of a revelation! Was it a sudden thing?

Not really coz it comes with built-in familiarity. It's ah not an arrow of time thing it's an inkling
inkled

The central point was simple Nature is a pattern we're part of it. Everything's connected

That's nice. Cut it could be said that's like: everybody knows

Sure, that's the point. Something opened-up that was already in full view

Ohr

But there's vaguely knowing that while you're busy doing other things ... then there's plugging direct-into-the-conduit while high on LSD

Ok I see

Once you're swimming in that pre-existence solution it's like pick-a-problem - the dross flakes
retrospectively off

A shape ripples through you into place

The ride - the vibe - from there is yeah ... open sesame
