

Secret Weapon

Before The State demonized me to death, i foot-soldiered for them until i was 48 - hailed as: a war hero

According to the historians, i'm fit, courageous - cool in pressure situations - known for my endurance ..

If that sounds sexy - i hate to ruin it: i'm ... no oil painting

Now that i find myself re-embedded, in civilized society, i still feel like an outsider

Of course, the horrors of war follow you home, but a side-effect of accepting that as a reality, is: it dissolves a lotta other bs in ya head

Leaving a residual ability to detect: fake projecting

It's this same inquisitiveness that provoked the furious headwind of Intellectual Hostility - currently focussed on me

Ironically, i'm an ignoramus - first to admit it - just some bloke - thirsting to learn - by conversing with: The Experts

How bad can that be ...?

As it happened ... quite early in my journey of inquiry - a pattern formed: our elites, are, seemingly, not as wise as they would have us believe ...

Initially, i thought: they might be glad to discover the error of their thinking ... in the spirit of human endeavour ... ! Together, lift the lid on it !

See, told you i'm an idiot

I don't seek conflict, the opposite, but inevitably, i end up contributing to it

Therefore i am ... reporting live from: the-thick-of-it

Within this .. hostile .. struggle/mess, my secret weapon is:

a Question

Which is the thing that: really bugs em

In my, dumb, opinion, life's a: wondrous investigation

A fellow-travelled mystery ... to be unravelled

One question, one (valid) answer, one piece of the puzzle at a time ...

Disclaimer: Challenging the State with fundamental questions will get you muzzled - may get you dead
